Koreans To Start War Anew

Rhee Tells Writer He Is 'Not Bluffing' And Will Go Ahead Without US Support

Editor's Note: — Reiman Morin, Associated Press special correspondent, interviewed President Syngman Rhee of South Korea today at the President's home in Seoul. Morin, who won the Pulitzer Prize for Korean War reporting in 1950, has been in the Far East three weeks visiting leaders in Japan and Korea. Before World War II, he was Associated Press chief of bureau in Tokyo. Since the war he headed Associated Press staffs in Paris and Washington before being appointed to his roving assignment.

By REIMAN MORIN

SEOUL (AP)—President Syngman Rhee said today he is determined to reopen the war against the Chinese Reds occupying North Korea, and he warned that if necessary he will go ahead without American support.

"I am not bluffing," he said. The President of the Republic of Korea made the statement in an interview with this correspondent. Except in general terms, he did not specify when he will order his armies to attack, but he said: "Time is rapidly running out. We shall have to act soon or perish."

In both manner and speech, he gave every evidence that he means what he says. He repeated several times: "I am not bluffing. I can't bluff now."

He criticized American policy as "mistaken" in discussing peace with the Chinese and said: "Unification through a political conference is ridiculous."

The President gave these reasons for the position he is taking: "I am convinced the Chinese themselves will repeat the same mistakes whenever they are ready."

"They have not given up their ambition for the whole of Korea. They will attack again."

2. He believes that the present armistice, like the talks in 1951, is merely to gain time for the military buildup.

3. The buildup is in progress, he said. This Communist army has new weapons from the Soviets including a strong air arm and many giant tanks."

4. Even assuming the Chinese do not attack in the near future—which he does not assume—he said a vicious Korea cannot live. He was speaking from a point of view of food, industry and general economics.

Therefore, he said, "we must strike first. It is no war of aggression to liberate part of our own soil. We want only what is our own."

Does he have any fear that a South Korean attack on the Chinese might touch off the third world war?

He smiled grimly and asked: "If Soviet Russia was not ready to start the third world war when we went to the Yalu River in 1950, why should it start now?"

Dishwasher Says He Shot, Killed Max Bodenheimer

NEW YORK (AP)—Harold Weinberg, 25-year-old dishwasher, admitted today that he shot and killed writer Max Bodenheimer, found slain last Sunday with his wife, police announced.

The announcement came a few minutes after Weinberg, a fugitive since the bodies were found in a squalid East Side room, had been hustled into a police station.

The prisoner had not yet been questioned concerning the fatal stabbing of Bodenheimer's wife, 35-year-old Ruth Fagan, police said. Police Lt. Edward J. Drum Jr. told reporters:

"Weinberg admits shooting Bodenheimer but he has not been questioned yet about the stabbing of the woman."

Rev. Sanders Dies

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The Rev. Edward F. Sanders, 70, pastor of the Assembly of God church here 20 years, died of a stroke at his home last night. He formerly was on the church's state board. Funeral services will be Friday.

Dr. Heber Hunt Re-elected Superintendent of Schools

School Board Unanimously Votes to Employ Superintendent; Commends Him for Work During Past Year; Considers Other Business

Heber U. Hunt, superintendent of Sedalia's public schools, was re-elected unanimously for one year by the Board of Education at its regular monthly meeting Tuesday night at Smith-Cotton High School.

The board commended Hunt for his work during the past year and assured him he could expect the full cooperation of the board during the coming year.

The board also (1) heard a delegation of residents in the Country Club addition seeking better school bus service for their children, (2) agreed on the regular 75-cent levy to be presented to the Sedalia voters for approval in April, (3) purchased a new drill machine for Horace Mann School (4) voted to permit Superintendent Hunt to attend the Feb. 13-18 convention in Atlantic City of the National Association of School Administrators and (5) arranged a routine transfer of funds in the local banks.

A delegation of three Air Force captains and two women appeared before the board at the beginning of the meeting and complained that the present bus service which transports their children from the Country Club to Horace Mann School is deficient in three ways: It is too expensive, the schedule is too early and the bus stops on highway 65 for loading where highway traffic is a hazard, instead of making a circle through the new section.

After the delegation left, the board authorized Hunt to talk with Marvin and Olen Howard to arrange a better bus service for that section.

The board then agreed that the school levy requested this year would remain the regular 75-cent levy levied in past elections. Fred Wesner was designated the attorney to prepare the necessary resolution and ballots.

The purchase of a new drill machine for Horace Mann School was approved Tuesday night, the Halper Office Equipment Co., price of $1,100 being accepted.

The sum of $50,000 each was transferred to the Sedalia Bank and Trust Co. and the Union Savings Bank to replenish the shortage of funds in those banks. It is the regular practice of the board to divide its funds among the three banks in town.

Hunt reported to the board that a letter has been sent to each of the original and present trustees of the Jennie Jaynes Lewis Foundation on Jan. 13, notifying them that they will be honored with individual citations at the 29th commencement of Smith-Cotton High School on May 20. The commencement will be held at the stadium that evening, unless inclement weather forces the program to be conducted in the high school auditorium.

A bill along this line was introduced in Congress yesterday by Rep. McGregor (R-Ohio), chairman of the House Roads Committee. His measure also would authorize $44 million a year for solely federal road construction.

The increased highway spending, Eisenhower said, will be possible if Congress approves his recommendation that a scheduled one-half cent a gallon cut in the federal gasoline tax be postponed.

The present two cent tax is scheduled to be reduced to 1 1/2 cents April 1.

At another point, Eisenhower could be heard to say the country could be spared a major depression but expressed the view that the people could be misled to such an extent that some sort of recession would occur.

In other remarks, the President declared that every move the government makes with respect to Indochina is carefully calculated to keep the United States from becoming involved in a hot war there. Involvement anywhere in an all out war would be the greatest possible tragedy for America, Eisenhower added.

2. Asserted that the times are too serious for extreme political partisanship. He said he would try to avoid it and would expect the Republican National Committee to show similar tolerance. These remarks were in response to questions about protests by Democrats that some Republicans have been making "dastardly" attacks on their party, seeking to win the election.

3. Volunteered that there is no basis for rumors that the government is planning to increase the interest rate on rural electrification loans.

4. Announced that the two divisions which will be brought home from Korea are the 45th, to return to the U.S. about the middle of April, and the 49th, to return some time in June. The 45th is made up largely of units of the Oklahoma National Guard and the 49th of California National Guardsmen.

5. Declared he has no intention of going into individual states during the coming congressional election campaign, and repeated he has no intention of participating in local contests. The President's remarks did not appear to close the door, however, to trips around the country in behalf of the administration program generally.

Declined to express any view on the activities of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.). A reporter had asked whether a statement by McCarthy, approved of a statement by Leonard W. Hall, chairman of the Republican National Committee, that McCarthy's current political tour is a good thing for the party.

Two B36 Bombers Fly Over Pacific And America Non-Stop

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Two giant B36 bombers landed at Limestone Air Base, in northern Maine, early today after a 28-hour nonstop flight from Japan, the 14th Air Division announced.

The planes, attached to the Strategic Air Command, were engaged in studies for the "jet streams" in the upper atmosphere. These are west-to-east wind currents moving at high speed.

The bombers, from the 5th Heavy Strategic Reconnaissance Wing, stationed at Travis Field, near the Pacific Ocean and the North American continent, a distance of more than 8,700 miles, without air refueling.

They left Yokota Air Base, near Tokyo, Monday evening, (United States time) and arrived at Limestone shortly before 2 a. m. CST, today.

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Three-year-old Dennis Raymond Lyon was killed yesterday by a truck driven by his grandfather. The boy lived at the home of the grandfather, Floyd E. Conney, who was backing the truck in the yard.

No Word Yet from Son Who Came Here Seeking Her—

A recent article in The Democrat telling of a young man's search for his mother, who had been missing for some time, has resulted in assisting yet another search. A man now living in Oklahoma, but born in Sedalia, believes he is the brother of the sought woman, whom he has been trying to locate for 40 years.

On Tuesday, The Democrat received a letter from James Kehn Berry, Hugo, Okla., stating that he had been sent a clipping of the article which appeared in the Feb. 3 edition. It told of the search of 24-year-old James Wilford Johnson to find his mother, whom he had never known.

The woman, Kehn Berry, thinks Mrs. Harper and her sister, who attended school here, are his sisters, and his letter revealing young man came to Sedalia last dress.

Ike OK To Road Building

President Gives Personal Backing To Step Up Federal Highway Construction

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower gave his personal backing today to a proposal for stepped up federal spending on highway construction.

He announced to a news conference that the administration wants federal aid to the states for road building increased from 575 million dollars to 800 million.

Since this money must be matched by local and state contributions, it would be a sizable boost to construction.

A bill along this line was introduced in Congress yesterday by Rep. McGregor (R-Ohio), chairman of the House Roads Committee. His measure also would authorize $44 million a year for solely federal road construction.

The increased highway spending, Eisenhower said, will be possible if Congress approves his recommendation that a scheduled one-half cent a gallon cut in the federal gasoline tax be postponed.

Heirs to Contest Ilgenfritz Will Leaving Funds to 'Met'

The last two living heirs of the late McNair Ilgenfritz, who died in April of last year, plan to contest his will whereby he left $150,000 to the Metropolitan Opera Company on the condition that it would perform one of his operas.

Mrs. Jean Ilgenfritz Demming, Kansas City, and Mrs. Dorothy Ilgenfritz Buckles, Sherman Oaks, Calif., contend that the will, now in the process of administration in Orphan's Court, Philadelphia, Pa., where Ilgenfritz died, is not in truth his last will and testament.

This much was stated in an application filed last week in probate court for ancillary administration of the Ilgenfritz property in Pettis County. Letters of administration were issued Wednesday morning, naming Mrs. Demming ancillary administratrix of Ilgenfritz' estate here.

George Miller, attorney for the two heirs, stated Wednesday morning, "Our contention is that under the laws of Missouri, the will in Philadelphia would not be considered the last will and testament. We believe the will was probably the result of undue influence, and there is the question of mental competency."

"Our investigation," he said, "has revealed that the Metropolitan Opera Co., meeting the minimum compliance of the will, could do so at a cost of less than $5,000. The heirs think it peculiar that prior to the time of McNair Ilgenfritz' death, his music was considered not to have the slightest value and that suddenly the Metropolitan Opera Co. seems to consider his works of good quality."

The contest in Missouri would interest here, which include a one-third ownership of the Ilgenfritz Building, Third and Ohio, and an interest in the Montgomery Ward building. Mrs. Gold Ilgenfritz, sister-in-law of the deceased, has filed for partition sale of the Ilgenfritz Building. She has a one-third interest in the property.

The will contest is certain to swirl around the strange personality of McNair Ilgenfritz, with the $150,000 bequest to the Metropolitan Opera Co. as the sought-after prize.

Following is the article published in the Jan. 4 edition of Time about McNair Ilgenfritz and his will:

"Oldtimers at the Metropolitan Opera knew McNair Ilgenfritz only as the man who regularly rented Box No. 1. Other people recognized him as a retiring little man who wore spats and a bowler hat at a rather rakish angle, and spent his life commuting between Paris, Newport and Philadelphia. They also knew that he liked to write music, and that he played the piano at parties and played well."

"As it happened, music was a passion with McNair Ilgenfritz. With an income from real-estate holdings in Sedalia, Mo., he was free to compose. When he was still in his 20s, he wrote a popular piece called 'The Hesitation Waltz' for a dance that came along just after the 'Bunny Hug' (and published) dozens of songs and began to reach for the more ambitious forms of composition."

In 1944 he submitted a pair of operas to the Met, one of them based on Racine's 'Phedre,' the other a one-act from Coppée's 'Le Passant' (The Passerby), whose plot might have been taken from his own wandering life."

"Last spring at 68, Composer Ilgenfritz died without hearing whether or not the Met liked his operas. But he saw to it that the opera would not forget about them; he left the Met the bulk of his estate on condition that it would perform one of them. Last week an inventory of the estate was filed, and it appeared that the Met was in line for some $150,000 if it met Composer Ilgenfritz' condition."

"Officials ransacked the Met library, dusted off the scores and found that 'Le Passant' was not only workable music, but that since it had only one act and two characters, it could be produced for operatic peanuts. The chronically strapped Met is now talking seriously of producing the work season after next."

Edison Day Is Set

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Gov. Phil M. Donnelly today proclaimed tomorrow as Thomas Alva Edison Day in honor of the famous inventor's 107th birthday anniversary.

Triplets Calves, All Living, Born On Smithton Farm

Triplets calves, a great rarity in the cattle business, were born Tuesday on the Wilbur Quint farm, about one mile north of Smithton, and all are living, which is even more rare.

The calves are of a mixed breed, Hereford and Angus.

Dr. B. E. Gouge, who attended the mother cow, said it was the first time he can recall in his practice that triplet calves have survived birth.

Three Sedalia Boys Hope to Keep $480 They Found

Three Sedalia boys are wondering when, if and how soon they can start spending the $480 they found in an old abandoned house a few days ago.

They are: David Gouge, 9, son of Dr. and Mrs. Hardin Gouge, 1620 South Beacon; Bruce Wells, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Wells, 1630 South Barrett; Larry Foster, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Foster, 1800 South Park.

Playing a few days ago, the boys wandered into an old house at 20th and Carr. The foot of one boy broke through a loose board in the floor and cracked the tarpaper that covered the floor like a rug.

There, as plain as day for the boys to see, was a pile of money—$480 in twenty-dollar bills.

Naturally, the young fellows rushed back to one of the homes with the money, as excited as boys can get.

The money has been put away to determine if the former owner had determined. Meanwhile, the boys are hoping they can be declared the legal "rich men" and get to keep the money.

Freymans Sell El Rancho Motel To Bargons

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Freyman have sold the El Rancho Motel to Nelson B. Bargon and Mabel N. Bargon of Clarence for $162,500. The transaction was completed on Monday.

The Bargons at one time had the Riverside Apartments in Kansas City and also formerly operated a motel.

Mr. and Mrs. Freyman, who have a home here, expect to remain in Sedalia for the present and have no immediate plans for the future. Mr. Freyman is vitally interested in the success of the Highway 50 Association and expects to continue to work in its interest.

Metal Tags Available For School Students

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Metal identification tags will be available for St. Louis school children under a plan adopted by the Board of Education last night.

The tags will be sold on a voluntary basis for 10 cents to children and 20 cents to adult personnel of the school system.

Nation Shies From War

Ike Says All Moves To Aid Indochina Aimed at Keeping US Out of Hot Conflict

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today every move the government takes with respect to aid to Indochina is carefully calculated to keep the United States from getting involved in a hot war there.

The President told a news conference he could not conceive of a greater tragedy than for America to get involved in an all-out war there or anywhere.

Eisenhower made the statements after Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.) voiced fear that the sending of American technicians to help French Union forces in their fight against Communists in Indochina might lead to U.S. involvement in the fighting.

Eisenhower said every step he authorizes in world affairs is taken as a means of preventing war. But everything that can be done in international affairs involves some risk, he added.

As the recent assignment of 200 American technicians to take care of American-provided planes in Indochina, Eisenhower said they will not be in combat and in any case are scheduled to be withdrawn by next June 15.

Asked about statements at the Capitol that the Senate Armed Services Committee was not informed in advance about the technicians being sent, Eisenhower said there appeared to be some misunderstanding on that point. He said he wanted to talk it over with the legislators involved before saying anything in that connection.

He said he makes every effort to discuss every significant action he takes with the proper people in Congress and declared there is no attempt to carry on any policy in the dark.

SAIGON, Indochina (AP)—Fifteen hundred Vietnamese rebels were reported 6 to 12 miles from Luang Prabang today but the French said they were only lining up supplies for the bulk of the Communist forces threatening the royal capital of Laos.

The French maintained most of the 12,000 rebels who invaded the Indochinese kingdom of Laos last week still were 50 miles north of the valley around Nam Bae.

Military observers believed the invaders, after covering 120 miles through mountainous jungle, had stopped to recuperate and replenish their supplies. There was speculation any assault on Luang Prabang might not come before early next week.

Criticizes Ike Over Sending Troops to IC

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.) contended today the Eisenhower administration violated a pledge by sending 200 Air Force mechanics into Indochina before consulting key congressmen.

Stennis, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said in an interview he favors immediate recall of the U. S. mechanics as a move to avoid possible direct involvement in the long anti-Communist war there.

Declaring that "I'm no isolationist," he said he believes a majority of the Senate Armed Services Committee opposed sending the mechanics into Indochina. He added he favors increased American aid in money and equipment.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), in a separate interview, called it a "risky step" to send the mechanics. He, too, said members of the Armed Services Committee were not informed in advance, and that they were told of the plan by Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, at a secret session last Friday.

That followed publication of newspaper accounts saying 125 or more technicians had been sent.

Byrd said the next steps would be requests by the French for U.S. pilots and ground forces in Indochina, adding he would oppose that. Secretary of Defense Wilson told a news conference yesterday the fighting is going satisfactorily, and that he sees no need to step up American aid.

Sen. George (D-Ga.) of the Foreign Relations Committee said he "doubts it was a wise move" to send in the mechanics. He agreed with Stennis that if the United States should send fighting forces into Indochina, Red China probably would send in forces as it did in Korea.

Wilson said yesterday that unless the Red Chinese intervene on a mass scale, or some similar new factor enters the picture, he thinks chances are good for a military victory in the eight-year war.

Republican Leader Knowland of California told the Senate Monday night the Eisenhower administration had no desire or intention of sending combat forces into Indochina.

Stennis told the Senate yesterday that Radford's report to the Armed Services Committee caused "almost unanimous alarm and grave concern" among senators present.

Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.), the committee chairman, said he first learned of the plan in newspapers, and he added:

"I was disturbed when I read that 200 uniformed mechanics of our Air Force were to be sent."

Saltonstall said he had been assured by Wilson that the 200 will be out of Indochina by June 12.

If the American people want to get involved in the Indochina war that is all right, Stennis said, adding:

"But I do not want to see them committed step by step, so that eventually they will have no choice but will be compelled to go in."

"Step by step, we are leading to a situation in which we may have no choice except to go in there with ground troops."

No Republican replied to Stennis on the Senate floor.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT!
Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W Tablets do... and here's how they do it:
First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.
Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Once Proud Clipper for Sale

FULL SAIL—The Pamir, one of Germany's two clipper ships now headed for the break-up yards.

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY

AP Newsfeatures

LUEBECK, Germany—A grand old lady of the seas is going on the auction block here next spring and the end of an era will be one step closer.

The proud, four-masted Passat, once one of the great clippers of the Australian grain trade, will be put under the hammer. Her sister, the Pamir, probably will be sold later. And when they're both gone, aged sailormen on this North Sea coast will have nothing but their memories of the old, giant days.

Time was when the Passat and the Pamir were cheered as they swept into foreign harbors, all four masts white with sail. Sailors called the two the "flying P line," and in the dim fo'c'sle lights, used to recount their exploits of speed.

But that was 40 years ago, when the ships were young and steam had not hogged the seas.

There were other clipper ships then, too, boiling out past the Great Barrier Reef off Australia, or cleaving the wild seas around Cape Horn.

There were sailormen in those days who suited the gull-swift clippers. Tough men, they were, who lived on salt pork, hardtack and the thought of a snug port with grog aplenty.

The Passat and Pamir gave up doggedly. As late as 1949 they fled before the winds to Port Victoria, Australia. It was almost like the old days. They took on grain cargoes and then stood out to sea, racing each other as in decades past.

The two old ladies acted like maidens. They sailed the trade winds together, canvas billowing as they skimmed the waves.

And just 127 days later they slipped into Falmouth, England. It was their last grain run, an echo of a lost era.

Sailormen and sea lovers in Hamburg tried to save the ships. But maintenance cost is too high. So the Passat will be sold in a few months. The Pamir probably will follow. And the clatter of sledges in a breaker's yard will sound the knell of Germany's clipper ship days.

Bob Thomas In Hollywood—

Peter Lorre Leaves Lorre Type to Play a New Role

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (P)—The title of this story is "The Ghoul Goes West," or "Creep in the Heart of Hollywood."

It concerns my favorite living character, Peter Lorre, who is back in filmville after a considerable absence. A little man with a large sense of humor, he takes a wry view of his own fortunes.

Lorre left town four years ago for a number of reasons. For one thing, the film business was in a slump. Also, he had long wanted to set up his own film team to make movies but couldn't manage to do it here. But most of all he wanted to escape being a Peter Lorre type.

"I don't want to bore you with that story," the actor said kindly. "Surely you must be fed up with actors telling you how they want to escape playing a certain type. It is the most banal of interviews."

"But alas, it was true in my case. I couldn't play anything but a Peter Lorre character. I didn't care for that. If I wanted to remain one character, I could still be playing Mr. Mojo. In 1938, I made nine of the Mr. Moto pictures in one year. The studio (20th Century-Fox) would have loved to have me continue, but I just couldn't see it."

Having started as a killer in "M," Peter returned to menace.

Starting with "Maltese Falcon," he teamed in several pictures with the late Sydney Greenstreet. Their get was generally Humphrey Bogart.

Lorre became a great favorite, particularly with night club imitators.

His European jaunt helped him vacate the pigeonhole Hollywood had stuck him into. He realized his ambition of setting up his own production team and made "The Lost One" in Germany. It has already won a number of international awards.

He made a couple of films in England and then teamed up with his old "Maltese Falcon" pals, Bogart and John Huston, in "Beat the Devil," which was filmed in Italy.

"That one was a healthy departure from my Hollywood roles," he commented. "and so is my next picture. I'm going to do '20,000 Leagues Under the Sea' for Walt Disney, and the role is not a heavy at all."

He will probably go to Nassau for locations on that one and then may return here for another film with Bogart, "Angels Cooking." That's Paramount's version of the Broadway hit "My Three Angels." After that, he may return to Europe.

Third Car Crash In One Accident Is 'Charm'
BETHESDA, Md. (P)—William S. Powick, 26, of Chevy Chase was injured when his car skidded into an embankment here yesterday.

He still wasn't hurt when his car was struck by one driven by Curtis C. Dangler, 24, of Potomac. Powick was returning to his stranded car to get his belongings when a car driven by Mrs. Gusti Greger, 32, of Rockville, slid into his car and sprayed him with glass. Both Powick and Mrs. Greger were taken to a hospital.

As an aftermath, a car driven by Ellery Heering, 50, of Bethesda overturned when he swerved to avoid the stalled cars.

rope for another film with his own team. But he emphasized that Hollywood will remain his home base. "These days an actor can't remain anywhere for any length of time," he remarked. "But I intend to keep my home here. I've missed California. When you've been gone so long, you realize that this is the best place in the world to live."

Mr. and Mrs. Muller are making their home in Junction City, Kan., for the present.

Cosmos Club to Help With Students' Trip

The Cosmos Club of Windsor met Monday evening, Feb. 8, at the home of Mrs. William Clark. In the absence of the president and vice president, the secretary presided. The club voted to pay $2.50 toward the expense of the music students to Columbia Jan. 16.

The nominating committee submitted the following as officers for the new year: Mrs. Billy Hughes, president; Miss Josephine Henry, vice president; Mrs. William Jackson, secretary; Mrs. Tom Penrose, treasurer; Mrs. James Fellers, musical; Mrs. Earl Alee, parliamentarian.

Mrs. William Turner gave an interesting review of the book "Mary Lincoln".

During the social hour the hostess served refreshments.

Girl Fatally Hurt Has Grandmother Here

Miss Betty Lou Murray, 15, St. Louis, fatally injured at Booneville early Tuesday morning when the car in which she and two other teen-agers were riding, was wrecked, there was a granddaughter of Mrs. Martha Murray, 434 East Saline.

Two others in the car injured, Miss Audrey Karch, 15, St. Louis, and Jerry Lewis Clay, driver, are in St. Joseph's Hospital, Booneville. Funeral services for Miss Murray were planned for Thursday afternoon at Paris, Mo.

Syracuse Club Has Home Agent Program

The Syracuse Club met Thursday with Mrs. Lewis Smith as hostess. Miss Opal Davis, county home agent at Versailles, presented a very interesting and instructive program on the selection and care of kitchen equipment.

Twelve members answered roll call with "my favorite radio program."

Miss Davis, Versailles, Mrs. Lawrence Gieser, Mrs. George H. Neitzert and Mrs. David Wittman were visitors.

Gilda Gray Settles Suit Over 'Shimmy'

DENVER — A million-dollar damage suit by former shimmy dancer Gilda Gray, in which she charged Columbia Pictures Corp. embarrassed her by using her career as basis for the Rita Hayworth film "Gilda," was dismissed in U. S. District Court yesterday.

The dismissal, "with prejudice," climaxed a five-year legal fight started in April 1949 by Miss Gray, then living at Larkspur, Colo. Her suit followed by three years Columbia's release of "Gilda," in which Miss Hayworth appeared frequently on the dance floor doing what Miss Gray charged was an imitation of the shimmy she originated.

Miss Gray now is staying with friends in Colorado Springs. Attorneys did not state the reason for the dismissal, agreed to by both sides. The "with prejudice" part means Miss Gray can never sue Columbia again on the same basis.

Such a dismissal almost always means the parties have settled out of court, a court attache said.

Geographic center of the District of Columbia is near the corner of Fourth and I streets, N.W., Washington.

Sacred Heart High News—

Bells to Bong at Bell Bounce As Students Ring Up Gay Eve

By Barbara Lamy

Bells will be ringing and Sacred Heart students singing at the big Bell Bounce next Tuesday night, Feb. 16, from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. This open informal dance will be sponsored by the student council and will be held in the Sacred Heart gymnasium.

To be admitted to the "bounce," students must wear at least one bright bell—any kind of bell, and must pay the admission fee of 25 cents per person. A prize will be given to the person wearing the most bells.

The junior class is planning to serve refreshments at the gala dance. So, besides music, fun, and clatter, there will also be food.

Jimmie Sees Mom But Won't Talk Of Marital Woes

CHICAGO — James Roosevelt, declining to comment on his marital troubles after a meeting with his mother last night, prepared today to leave for New York.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, in Chicago on speaking dates, also refused to comment.

The eldest son of the late President has been accused by his estranged wife Romelle of misconduct involving 12 women and she has asked $3,500 monthly support in a separate maintenance suit at Pasadena, Calif.

Asked by newsmen if he had discussed his marital problems with his mother, Roosevelt said: "You know more about what's going on than I do. I'm trying to clean up everything and I'm leaving for New York Wednesday."

Roosevelt said his trips to Chicago and New York were in connection with his father's estate. He said he planned to be back in California in time for a Monday court session dealing with the separate maintenance suits.

James' brother, Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt (D-N.Y.) also was in Chicago on a speaking date but he did not take part in the family conference. James described the presence of the three family members in Chicago as "entirely a coincidence."

The meeting yesterday by James and his mother heightened speculation that they would discuss possible financial settlement of Roosevelt's court fight with his wife.

Roosevelt has testified at a support hearing in Pasadena that he already has used his expected inheritance from his father's estate as basis for a $100,000 loan from his mother.

4,100,000 Veterans Trained In Skills

WASHINGTON — The Veterans Administration reported today that 4,100,000 World War II veterans trained with government financial aid to become skilled craftsmen or for the professions.

WASHINGTON — Pusan businessmen today announced plans for the tallest building in Korea's history—a $3,300,000 10-story peace building in this city where fire destroyed a large section last December.

The building would house shops, markets, retail stores, offices, a theater, a research laboratory, and a music hall.

American newspapers used an estimated 553,889 pounds of newsprint in March, or about seven pounds for every man, woman and child in the U.S.

Will Hit Coffee Speculators If They're to Blame

WASHINGTON — Sen. Beall (R-Md.) promised today to focus full publicity on coffee speculators trading under government supervision.

The bill came up on Monday, but it was blocked on a technical objection by Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.), who said he was acting for another senator not present. However, Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, forecast approval the next time the measure was presented for a vote.

Beall said in an interview he hopes the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange will agree to supply voluntarily lists of all traders and speculators to his Banking subcommittee, which is searching for reasons why coffee prices are up to around $1 a pound and 15 cents a cup in some places.

"If they won't, then we'll get their records by subpoena," Beall stated.

Colored glass beads were made in Egypt about 3,000 B. C.

To Decide If FBI Report Is Needed On Justice Warren

WASHINGTON — An issue within the Senate Judiciary Committee is whether to require an FBI report on former California Gov. Earl Warren before acting on his nomination to be chief justice of the United States.

As this came to light today, it was learned that the Justice Department has not had the FBI run a check on Warren, already serving on the Supreme Court under a recess appointment made by President Eisenhower last fall.

No senator has come out in opposition to his confirmation, which seems assured. The committee discussion apparently centers wholly on a point of procedure.

His nomination, submitted to the Senate a month ago, is under consideration by the Judiciary Committee.

Franco Hits France's Handling of Morocco

MADRID, Spain — Generalissimo Francisco Franco took a swing yesterday at France's handling of affairs in Morocco.

Spain will continue to defend the united of the Moroccan empire even through "violent French action" has destroyed political foundations of the North African land where the two nations share protectorates.

'Cow-Fee' Is Offered As Coffee Substitute

WASHINGTON — An advertising agency has come up with something it calls "cow-fee" as one answer to high coffee prices and milk surpluses.

It's a beverage using both coffee and milk. The agency, apparently working for milk producers, put on a press preview yesterday.

"Cow-fee" uses hot milk poured over instant coffee powder.

Meanwhile, Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader in the Senate, called for action today on a bill to bring coffee trading under government supervision.

The bill came up on Monday, but it was blocked on a technical objection by Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.), who said he was acting for another senator not present. However, Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, forecast approval the next time the measure was presented for a vote.

AFL Leaders In Compromise On Job Rights

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—AFL leaders have come forward with a compromise plan for settling job-right fights among rival AFL unions but there remained considerable doubt today how well it will work out.

The AFL Executive Council gave tentative approval to the plan before winding up a winter meeting yesterday. It was obvious that several AFL unions were reluctant about going along.

George Meany, when installed as AFL president little more than a year ago, embarked on a campaign to establish machinery for settling feuds between the AFL and CIO as a preliminary to a merger. Then he was instructed by the AFL to try for a similar peace plan within the AFL itself.

Neither plan has matured, although Meany still is pushing both and is hopeful they can be accomplished.

The rub comes mainly within the AFL, among unions jealous of their often conflicting jurisdictional claims that a particular union's members should perform a certain type of work.

The Teamsters Union, for example, headed by Dave Beck, has announced plans for doubling a present membership of nearly 1,500,000 within five years. The Teamsters are reportedly reluctant to abandon the possibility of expanding work opportunities in fields now occupied by members of CIO or other AFL unions.

The Teamsters will decide on both plans at a meeting of the union's international executive board here next week. On their decision will largely depend whether Meany's hopes for orderly settlement of interunion rivalries can be accomplished.

It was with this underlying conflict that the AFL council yesterday approved a plan to let whatever unions desire to go along agree in advance to submit their job-right disputes with other AFL unions to a binding decision by an outside judge, or arbitrator.

The whole plan must be reconsidered, however, at another AFL council meeting in Chicago next May when all AFL union presidents also will debate the plan. It can be put into effect for unions subscribing to it, or the whole matter can be put over to the next AFL convention.

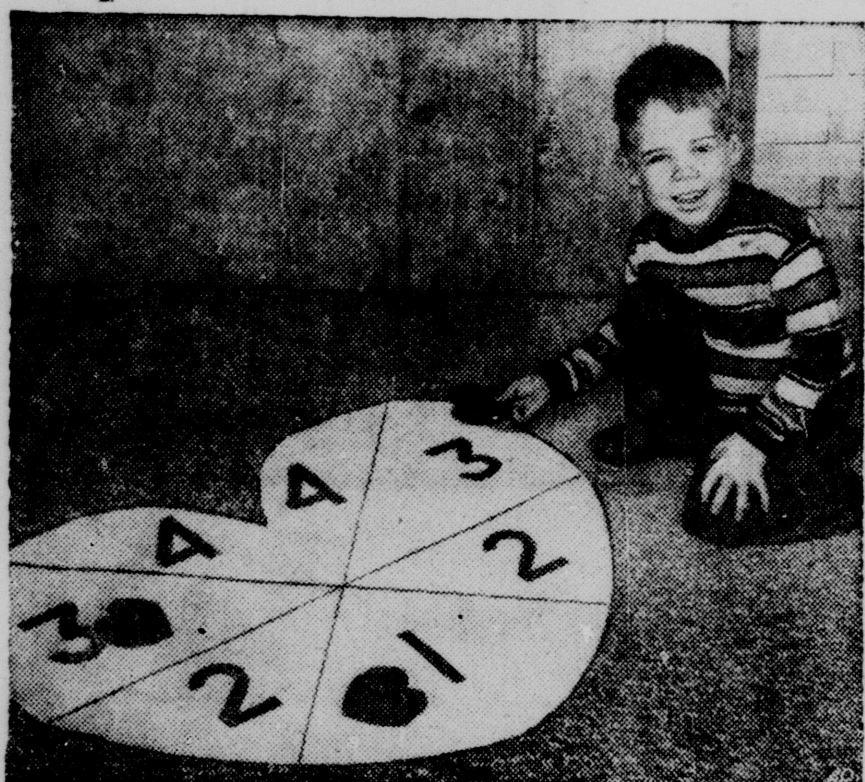

Meany said he believed "a substantial number of AFL unions" will subscribe to the AFL's own peace plan. He said only about 40 out of the AFL's 110 unions have agreed so far to go along with the AFL-CIO "no raiding" pact.

There appeared good cause for doubt that Meany's plan will go into effect. While CIO President Walter Reuther has pledged that virtually all his unions want to endorse the "no raiding pact," some of them are known to qualify their OK on most AFL unions also agreeing.

The AFL council advised all AFL unions to establish safeguards on union help and welfare funds to prevent "abuses" and excessive administrative costs. The move was widely regarded as an attempt to counter President Eisenhower's recommendation that Congress investigate union handling of these multi-million dollar funds and enact legislative curbs on possible abuses.

Jewelry Center Rebuilds
PFORZHEIM, Germany (AP)—Pforzheim, after nearly nine years, is again the jewelry manufacturing center of this country. Yet much of the ruins still remain from the devastating raid of Feb. 23, 1945 by British bombers. Of Pforzheim's 79,000 citizens, 17,600 were killed in 20 minutes. One large cross near the center of the city stands as a memorial to all.
Despite whole blocks still leveled, new factories, homes and stores are being erected everywhere.

HEARTS AND BEAN BAGS... Easy-to-make Valentine game.

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Valentine's Day may mean true love to the prom set, but to Junior it's the signal for a party.
If you're faced with entertaining a crew of space cadets on the big day, take a tip from local sewing center experts for a game to keep them floored for hours. St. Valentine is down for the count in this easy-to-stitch heart game, where red heart bean bags are tossed at a large white heart, cross-marked for easy scoring.
You will need one yard of white felt, 72 inches wide, 1/2 yard of bright red felt, two spools of red mercerized thread and one of black.
To make a pattern for the big heart, use a large double sheet of newspaper. Cut a half heart

Parents Cannot Get Dead Son's Marriage Annulled by Court

ATLANTA (AP)—Efforts of a Valdosta couple to have their dead son's marriage annulled has been rejected by the Georgia Supreme Court.

At stake was the $10,000 government insurance policy and $1,800 gratuity pay of Willie Ezekiel Johnson, a serviceman killed in a plane crash in Idaho Jan. 7, 1953.

The parents, Ezekiel and Bessie Johnson, filed suit against Verta Lee Mitchell Johnson, who they charged fraudulently married their son in Valdosta Aug. 20, 1951.
But the Supreme Court said that fraud is a valid ground for divorce in this state and for that reason could not be used as a ground for seeking an annulment.

Truman Will Discuss Giving Papers to MU

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman planned to meet with University of Missouri officials today to discuss the possibility of housing his private papers at the university.
He said at Kansas City last night the university arranged the meeting and he was coming here "simply to see what they have to say."
Truman said his visit here had no connection with reports that he might become president of the school.

Seeks Money For Table Rock Dam

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) served notice today he will try to get money from Congress this year to start construction of Table Rock dam on the White River near the Arkansas-Missouri border.

He told a Senate appropriations subcommittee, of which he is a member, that he intends to do all within his power to release to Army Engineers some $2,300,000 of previously appropriated money and get a new appropriation of at least three million dollars "to get this project going."

Although some 3 1/2 million dollars in construction money has been voted by Congress for table rock the past two years, actual construction never has begun.

Work was delayed a year ago because the House and Senate appropriations committee directed a survey of the area to determine if power from the big project is needed.

Their report that the power is needed was submitted to the appropriations committee's last month. However, the committee have taken no action to release to the engineers the $2,300,000 previously appropriated. The engineers say they cannot proceed without getting the word from the committee.

McClellan told the Senate subcommittee, now hearing Army Engineers in support of budget recommendations for such projects, that "I want action taken."

He said he intends to "lay the foundation" so that if the House committee hasn't released the money by the time the Senate committee is ready to consider the appropriation bill "I will undertake to get this release."

In addition, he said, "I want an appropriation which, with the funds already available, will enable the engineers to do this job like it should be done."

There was no budget recommendation this year for Table Rock but Brig. Gen. C. H. Chorpene, assistant chief of Army Engineers, has told the subcommittee the engineers asked the budget bureau to recommend three million dollars.

With $5,300,000 available, he said, the engineers could let a contract to start the big project. He said:

Lawyer Explains Workmen's Compensation for Optimists

John C. McCloskey, Sedalia attorney, gave a very informative talk Tuesday noon at the Optimist Club meeting, held at Bothwell Hotel, on insurance and workmen's compensation. Having worked for eight years with two different insurance companies, Mr. McCloskey has a very thorough knowledge on what type claims should be paid or should not be paid.

The Workmen's Compensation Law, advocated in 1929 in Missouri and now in about 46 of the 48 states, was thought of as first something that would take a lot of business from lawyers, for the reason that employees would file their own claims against the company. But it has worked out the other way. There are thousands of claims where it must be determined whether it is an accident or not.

Other disputes are caused by whether the accident happened on the job or whether it did not. If the accident occurred on the premises there is no trouble. But when it applies to a person who travels on his job, or the job takes that without this much money available it would be poor business to attempt to let an initial contract.

fect yourself, he said, and you should be certain about the injury.
No matter how trivial the injury seems, the speaker said, it should be given first aid and reported by the foreman. From even a slight injury, he said, infection later may cost hundreds of dollars. The report of accidents should be made to the insurance company immediately.
Speaking briefly on fire insurance, Mr. McCloskey stated that one thing everybody should do is to have a list of every article in the home. It is easier to list them before the fire than afterward and put the list in a safety deposit box. There may be things worth several hundred dollars that you would never think of at the time you were listing them after the fire, but you would remember them later. However after the list has been turned in there is nothing you can do about it.

The meeting was presided over by Harold Barrick, president. Invocation was by the Rev. J. W. Watts. Singing was led by Charles Hanna, with Mrs. Ed G. Ringen at the piano.
John Straka was welcomed into the club as a new member.

South Workers Freedom Balloons Will Fill the Skies Feb. 12

Drifting Back From Up North

MEMPHIS, Feb. 10.—There are uneasy signs that the South's economic stream is being complicated by an undercurrent of "driftback" job-seekers.

These unemployed are homing Southerners, most of them laborers and former farm workers who went North during the '40s, lured by high wages.

During the past few months a lot of them—in the wake of Northern industrial layoffs and other reasons—are coming back to home ground.

Any sizable driftback would add to pressure already felt in the cotton belt, coming on top of cotton acreage cutbacks, mechanization and "day cropping."

Some farm leaders believe the homing workers are the underlying cause of the situation in upper east Arkansas and part of the Missouri Bootheel, where about 8,000 are reported on the ragged edge of hunger.

"I think the biggest trouble is that a lot of people who went up North are coming back," Hilton Bracey, manager of the Missouri Cotton Producers Assn., said today.

"And a lot of people who usually move on somewhere else stuck around. There are lots of factors. Drought, maybe, but not much. It's hard to put a finger on it and I can't prove my theory. But that's my opinion."

There won't be any clear picture of the situation until about April, when planting is under way and seasonal layoffs in industry usually end.

For unemployed farm workers, another complicating factor in the cotton acreage cutback imposed by law because of the cotton surplus.

Reduced cotton acreage has put an undetermined number of tenant farm families on the road. There isn't enough cotton land to go around. Some farm owners have turned to "day cropping."

Under this method, the farmer hires workers by the day when he needs them. Under the share-cropping system, the worker remained on the farm. If he ran out of money in midwinter, the planter would advance credit on the next crop.

The "driftback trend" is reflected in the number of interstate unemployment compensation claims filed in Southern states against other states, mostly in the North and East.

Louisiana and South Carolina reported a normal seasonal increase in interstate claims. Arkansas noted an increase but "not too great a trend."

Sharp increases in such claims were counted, however, by Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Florida and North Carolina. In Tennessee, about 8,000 interstate claims are on file, double last year's total.

Alabama: interstate claims up to 2,839 for January, 100 per cent over the previous four-month period.

Georgia: a steady increase of claims over the past five months, ranging from 170 in September to 1,873 in January.

Florida: January claims 4,965, about 1,000 more than for the same period in 1953.

North Carolina: 2,746 new interstate claims in January, a 91.4 per cent increase over 1953.

By WARD CANNEL
NEW YORK Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (NEA)—For flying saucers, star-gazers and others prone to heavenly observation, Feb. 12 ought to be a red-letter day.

According to the Crusade For Freedom, more than 4,000 balloons will be released on Abraham Lincoln's birthday from about 500 communities in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Canada.

The reason: these are models of Freedom Balloons that have been turned loose in the strong west wind to carry messages of hope to prisoners behind the Iron Curtain.

In the United States, the project belongs to the Fraternal Order of Eagles and will open Crusade For Freedom Week. Each balloon launched will carry freedom messages, an envelope and letters from top F. O. E. officers.

The messages will ask the finders to help the Crusade forward in encouraging the "Soviet-oppressed peoples behind the Iron Curtain."

In Europe, the balloons have been launched by the Crusade and aimed primarily at Central Slovakia. The spheres are of two kinds: those that drift until they descend and others that explode and scatter their messages broadcast.

"Know this," the message says in part, "Power lies with the people and the people stand oppressed. With unity and courage, organize your strength..."

Balloon messages have met with strong opposition by the Red governments. MIG-15 Russian-built jets have attacked the helium-filled sacks. Their record two downed, others missing.

But prisoners back from the tyranny of Eastern Europe report the messages have come through, along with the voice of Radio Free Europe which works with Crusade For Freedom.

In addition, Red propagandists have given the official status to the freedom balloons and radio broadcasts by arguing with each point by point. They have no longer been able to jam the radio transmitters, which now total 22.

Back in the United States, the F. O. E. and the Crusade are working together on the balloon project to bring more dramatically to the American people the fact that they have a part to play in the cold war.

Other organizations, too, are helping to bring the Crusade's treasury up to the brim. Junior Chambers of Commerce, for example, are holding contests and asking citizens to write their own answers to Communist lies. The banking associations are mailing information booklets on the Crusade along with statements to depositors.

Unlike government organizations which fight Red propaganda, imperialism and ideology, the Crusade For Freedom and its parent group, The American Heritage Foundation, are not hampered by the red tape of diplomacy.

A private institution, supported in part by citizens' contributions and corporation donations, Radio Free Europe and the Free European Press can employ those who have fled through the Iron Curtain to fight fire with fire.

Hull said he was taking an "encouraging report" on Korean conditions. Both described the trip as strictly routine.

Gen. Hayden Named To Head Korean Relief
TOKYO (P)—Brig. Gen. Frederic L. Hayden, 53, of Ft. Stevens, Ga., and Middletown, N. Y., today was named chief of the Korea Civil Assistance Command in charge of civilian relief and food help.

Prior to coming to the Far East, he headed the Eastern Antiaircraft Command with headquarters at Newburgh, N. Y.

Sweden Thinks US Has Over 1,000 A-Bombs
STOCKHOLM, Sweden (P)—The Swedish army chief of staff reported today that the United States is believed to have a stock of "considerably more than 1,000 atomic bombs" and the Soviet Union "might have some 100 atomic weapons of both light and heavy types."

The statement by Gen. Richard Akerman, made in a survey of East-West resources in the event of war, was published on the front pages of several Swedish papers.

Set Up Own Relief
KENNETT, Mo. (P)—Dunklin County businessmen are setting up a program to give work to the county's needy in the hope that after 30 days, outside cash and food help will be unnecessary.

About 700 families of out-of-work farm laborers were found virtually destitute last week.

Woman Kills Self As Cops Are Outside Door
FORT WORTH, Tex. (P)—Mrs. Betty Jean Jones, 29-year-old mother, shot herself fatally through the heart in her hotel room last night as detectives stood outside her locked door.

Detectives had gone to the hotel to talk to the woman after receiving a telephone call from Dallas from her husband, C. L. Jones.

The husband said Mrs. Jones had called Dallas from the hotel and had threatened to kill herself. As the officers waited for her to come to the door, they heard the revolver shot.

Jones told officers his wife had been despondent for several months.

Russian Youths Study Books In English About Politics

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer
MOSCOW (P)—The English text book studied by Russia's 12 and 13-year-olds runs the gamut from fairy tales and school-day morality to international politics.

A state publication for the sixth grade, the book is called "Stories About School." It is in English except for Russian footnotes and a dictionary appendix.

It tells about pupils reporting to their class about vacations and on activities of Pioneer groups (the Soviet version of Boy and Girl Scouts). It reveals how Russian children are encouraged to check one another's conduct.

Nelly, for instance, criticizes Karl Marx says that he gives a better picture of society than many scientists.

A boy called Youre tells about international politics: "Capitalist countries spend most of their money on the future war. The Soviet Union stands for peace, and the movement for peace shall win."

One boy tells the club: "I advise you to read Dickens' books. Karl Marx says that he gives a better picture of society than many scientists."

The meeting passes two resolutions: "1. We think Nelly acted right when she told the class about Masha Stepanovna's bad action. It is the duty of a Soviet Pioneer to unmask all unpioneerlike actions. She was also right when she refused to let Irene copy her sum."

"2. We think that to spoil works of art and other kinds of property is a very uncultured action, and we promise to keep our desks and books in good order, and to stop any boy or girl who spoils any kind of school property, or trees and flowers in parks and gardens."

In a story about a school's English reading club the pupils act out sketches based on "Robinson Crusoe," "Tom Sawyer," "Gulliver's Travels" and Grimm's "Snowdrop."

Spectators gasped when they saw blonde hair protruding from one end of the bundle.

The men waited quietly for an elevator. Then they rode up to the office of the FBI.

A body? No, said the FBI. A department store mannequin used in a police training course.

C. of C. Budget And Program Are Approved

The budget and program of work of the Chamber of Commerce were approved at a meeting of the board held Tuesday afternoon at the C. of C. office, after each had been discussed by the group.

Each director has a division under which there are from one to four committees. Each of the committees has a chairman and in some cases there is a general chairman serving with the director over all of the committees in a division.

These committees have been working the past several weeks to outline a plan under their particular division for the betterment of the city and the entire county. An excellent program of work has resulted from this study of needs of the community and an effort will be made by each to carry out as much of the planned program as possible. On several projects two or more committees of the same division, or different divisions, may work together.

The divisions include: retail merchants, better business, traffic and parking improvement, industrial development, state and national affairs, civic activities, aviation and military affairs, farm marketing, public relations, health and safety, recreation and education, membership and finance and manufacturers and wholesalers.

The meeting was presided over by Claude Boul, president. Officers and directors attending were: Kenneth U. Love, first vice president; Mrs. Ike L. Warren, treasurer; Chester A. Brown, executive manager; Jack Cunningham, immediate past president; I. H. Reed, ex officio member of the board; Robert Johnson, John Polham, George Dugan, St. Maurice Hogan, Robert Cain, Del Hecker, Merle Vaughan, Henry Salveter, Kenzie Miller and Jack Shoemaker, board members.

Benson Denies Farm Program 'Poor Politics'

COLUMBUS, Neb. (AP)—Agriculture Secretary Benson took issue today with those who contend that President Eisenhower's proposed farm program may be right, but is "poor politics."

"To them I say: Gentlemen, in what country are you living?" Benson declared in remarks prepared for delivery at an annual Town and Country meeting sponsored by the chamber of commerce here.

"Do you seriously believe that the American farmer, and the American consumer, are so foolish, or so selfish, that they cannot, or will not, choose what is right over so-called political expediency?"

"For my part I refuse to believe that what is right is not good politics. I refuse to believe that honesty is not the best policy."

Benson, currently on a round of speeches championing the President's farm proposals, came here from Oklahoma. He addressed a Nebraska Farmers Union state convention in Omaha tonight.

Flexible farm price supports are a principal feature of the President's proposals.

Benson urged his listeners to "bury this fiction that rigid price supports are responsible for the farm prosperity of the past."

The high prices and favorable income enjoyed by farmers during the war and early postwar period "were due to strong war and post-war demand for food and fiber—nothing else," the cabinet member declared. The price support program was little used during this period, he said.

Near Riot Comes After McCarthy Speaks In Church

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Four thousand persons, after hearing Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) castigate Communist conspiracy in high places, came out of the First Congregational Church last night to be greeted as "McCarthyites" over a mobile loud speaker system.

Jibes and taunts were too much for some in the crowd and they converged on their critic, whom police identified as Wilbur Joseph Jeger. He had set up his speaker on private property adjoining the church. Several clouds of dirt were thrown at him and one man brandished a tire wrench.

About 20 police in 10 cars answered a riot call. Officers induced Jeger to stop his remarks and leave under protective escort. The said Jeger has filed for bail in the Democratic and Socialist Party nominations for Congress in the 26th California District.

In a question and answer period after his speech, McCarthy said he had been wrong in stating at Madison, Wis., that John J. McCloy, former U. S. high commissioner in Germany, had ordered the destruction of Army intelligence documents on Communism.

But, said McCarthy, McCloy signed orders to commission and promote Communists in the Army.

Tractor Project Leaders of 4-H Clubs In School

Leaders of tractor maintenance projects in 4-H clubs of several counties have been attending a two-day training session being held at the Sedalia Implement Company under the sponsorship of the Extension Service.

Several farm implement manufacturing firms and the Standard Oil Co. are cooperating in conducting the school and they gave a dinner Tuesday night for the leaders at the Fifth Street Methodist Church.

In charge of the training, and the hostmaster at the dinner, is Grand Strum, state club agent of the Extension Service from the University of Missouri. Marion Clark, extension engineer, is assisting and Jim Perry, assistant county agent here, helped make the arrangements.

During the school sessions Tuesday and Wednesday, the leaders received many pointers on assisting in the training of the youths in their clubs. During the program at the dinner meeting they learned of the state skilled operator contests and of tractor safety programs for the communities. Two films were also shown at this time.

Attending the sessions are leaders from these counties: Pettis, Saline, Cooper, Cole, Benton, Monticue, Carroll, Cass, Lafayette, Benton, Howard, and St. Clair. A total of 45 are registered.

41 Students Here From 6 Schools For H.S. Congress

Forty-one students from six schools participated in the Western Missouri National Forensic League Student Congress held at Smith-Cotton High School's Little Theatre Monday.

During the activities of the day Max Von Erdmannsdorff, North Kansas City, was selected as the outstanding speaker of the congress with Neal Miller, Rockhurst, as second speaker and speaker Charles Gibson, William Christian High, Independence, selected as the best of the presiding officers.

Modeled after a unicameral legislature, the congress is operated just as a house or senate would function. Prior to the convening, three bills are decided upon and they are presented one at a time. Students are permitted to speak for or against a bill, with a limit of three minutes per speech and five speeches during the three hour session.

Schools represented at the event were: Smith-Cotton, Wm. Christian, North Kansas City, Neosho, Purdy and Rockhurst of Kansas City.

Those taking part from Sedalia included: Larry Winkler, Jack Isur, Carlyle Hume, Valgene Hawthorth, Maurine Hoffman, Kathryn Eickhoff, Bernice Bacon and Marilyn Garrett.

Six overtime parkers who failed to appear in court forfeited their cash bonds of $1 each.

Compromise Due On Wire Tapping

WASHINGTON (AP)—A compromise was in prospect today after Republican differences which have stymied House consideration of a bill to legalize wiretapping in national security cases.

One possibility, reported to be looked upon with favor by the White House, would hand authority for permitting wiretapping over to the President instead of the attorney general as now proposed in the administration-backed version.

It is this matter of authority which has held up wiretap legislation in the House. GOP leaders had tentatively planned to call it up for action last month.

Brownell contends that control over wiretap interceptions should be vested in the attorney general alone. He argues it would be less cumbersome, and would largely prevent the possibility of security "leaks."

On the other hand, a House Judiciary subcommittee already has approved a bill by Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.) which not only would require approval by the attorney general, but also an advance federal court order in each specific case of wiretapping.

The Keating bill was approved unanimously by the subcommittee but has since been held up in the full committee at Brownell's request.

US Won't Sell Surplus To Russia, Satellites

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks announced today the government will not allow the sale of government stocks or surplus farm products to Russia or her satellites.

But Weeks indicated that applications for permission to sell privately owned non-strategic farm products to the Soviet bloc might get favorable consideration.

Trade with Russia or her Communist allies must be approved by the licensing division of the Commerce Department's bureau of foreign trade.

RECEIVE EMERGENCY FOOD ORDER—Members of the Walter Wiseman family at Kennett, Mo., are shown with the emergency food order given them by the Dunklin county food relief committee to tide them over until distribution of government surplus food begins in the county later this week. To Audit State Drought Emergency Shipping Fund

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—An audit of Missouri's drought emergency shipping fund is under way.

Gov. Phil M. Donnelly ordered state Auditor Haskell Holman to make the audit yesterday and complete it as soon as possible to show the status of the fund through Jan. 31.

From Feb. 1 on, the governor said, current figures of state Agriculture Commissioner L. C. Carpenter will be available for the guidance of legislators who convene here in special session Feb. 23.

Donnelly disclosed he had asked Holman to make the audit after reporters questioned him about a request from Rep. Max Myers (R) of Jasper County, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

Myers, in a telegram last Friday, had asked the governor to have an independent firm of certified public accountants report on the May fund's status before the special session starts.

The governor said he had no objection to making full information available to the Legislature because "I don't have anything to hide on this thing."

His plan to keep the shipping program going until the Legislature acts to remove the present $12 million-dollar ceiling has been criticized by Republican House leaders. But the governor has said he would not obligate or spend more than the amount appropriated by last fall's special session.

Rep. Bramblett To High Court On Conviction

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lawyers for Rep. Bramblett (R-Calif.) promised a legal fight today all the way to the Supreme Court, if necessary, to try to overturn his conviction on charges of falsifying his congressional office payroll in a salary "kickback" scheme.

Bramblett had nothing to say after a Federal court jury brought in its verdict against him yesterday, but his attorney, Edward Benjamin Williams, told newsmen: "This conviction won't stand."

The jury deliberated about an hour and 40 minutes before convicting Bramblett on seven payroll charges.

Bramblett, 52, is serving his fourth term in the House.

After each jury verdict the verdict at Williams' request, the defense lawyer asked U. S. District Judge Walter M. Bastian to allow Bramblett to remain free under $2,500 bail. The judge agreed.

Next Williams asked the judge to set aside the verdict, but the judge told him to put this in writing along with his other motions, including one for a new trial.

Mrs. Mac Fadden Wins Separate Maintenance

NEW YORK (AP)—Blonde Johnnie Lee Macfadden, 47, won a separation today from her husband, 48-year-old Bernard Macfadden.

State Supreme Court Justice Henry Clay Greenberg granted the separation, saying that the "great disparity in ages" doomed their marriage in 1948, from the start.

Referring to the octogenarian physical culturist and former publisher, the judge said:

"When a man reaches the age of 80, as he did when he married this woman who is almost half his age and the mother of two children, that marriage upon the very threshold was doomed to failure."

The court also found that Macfadden had baselessly accused his wife of being unfaithful and of trying to poison him. He said her charges of "cruel and inhuman treatment" had been fully established.

South Abell 4-H'ers Have Eight Guests

The South Abell 4-H club held its regular monthly meeting Feb. 4. The meeting was opened by repeating the national 4-H club pledge. Roll call was answered by 12 members. Eight visitors were present.

After the business meeting, refreshments were served and a Valentine exchange was held.

Rose Liebbrand Promoted to Major

Headquarters, Missouri Military district, has announced the promotion of Capt. Rose Liebbrand, 901 South Vermont, Sedalia, to the grade of Major, U. S. Army Reserve.

Major Liebbrand has been a reserve officer since graduation from IAAG OCS in 1942. During the World War II she served as an intelligence and base photographic officer with the Army Air Force.

Joplin Votes For New City Manager Plan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The "ayes" were on top in three special local elections in Missouri yesterday.

Joplin adopted the city manager plan; Marshall approved an $850,000 school bond issue, and St. Joseph voted for a 30-cent increase in the school tax levy.

More than 8,500 persons voted in Joplin's election, while about 6,500 were expected. They approved a home rule charter 4,754 to 3,769, with the proposal carrying in 14 of the 25 precincts.

The charter was drafted by a 13-member commission appointed last fall. It calls for a city manager and nine councilmen.

The councilman will be elected in April.

It marks the first change in the city's government in 40 years. The city has been ruled by a mayor and four commissioners.

Marshall citizens voted 2,249 to 659 in favor of the bond issue that will finance a hot lunch program, public kindergartens in five schools, and construction of a high school addition.

In St. Joseph the vote was 8,307 to 1,655 for the higher tax levy to finance salary hikes for teachers and to hire more instructors. The new 30-cent levy will run two years and is expected to add $220,000 in revenue. Two 30-cent levies which had expired were reinstated.

Truman Looks Over Sites In Columbia For Truman Library

COLUMBIA (AP)—A former President Harry S. Truman was in Columbia this afternoon to look over possible sites for the proposed Truman library to house his presidential papers.

Mr. Truman met University of Missouri officials at the office of Dr. Frederick A. Middlebush, president of the university, and viewed some of the proposed sites as he strolled with them to the university's student union building, where he was their guest at lunch. He said he would reach no decision on the library site today.

In Kansas City this morning Mr. Truman said both the University of Missouri and Kansas City University were interested in the final placing of his papers. He made that disclosure just before leaving for Columbia.

Grand Jury Selected In Kansas City Today

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A federal grand jury of 23 persons was selected today and it immediately went into session.

Edward L. Scheufler, U. S. District Attorney, said only routine cases will be considered this week. Later this month, he said, the jury would go into the missing ransom money in the Robert Greenlease kidnapping case.

A previous jury inquired into the missing $300,000 of the $600,000 ransom and indicted Louis Shouders, former St. Louis police lieutenant, and Elmer Dolan, suspended St. Louis patrolman, on charges of perjury. Shouders and Dolan were the two officers who took one of the kidnappers, Carl Austin Hall, into custody.

Sonny Broyles Back From Korean Service

Airman 2-e Clarence Ray Broyles, better known to his friends as "Sonny," landed at Seattle, Wash., Monday on board the Gen. Patrick after a year's duty in Korea. He is flying to Kansas City Wednesday night and will be met there Thursday morning by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Broyles, 1901 South Sneed.

Soviets Told US Farmers In Dire Times

MOSCOW (U.P.)—You'd think, reading the Soviet press these days, that millions of American farmers are headed for the poorhouse in one of the great economic disasters of all time.

Things are bad for farmers in Western Europe too, and all the way around to Japan, wherever the capitalists have anything to say.

But it's worst in the United States where, by Soviet reports, depression is abroad in the land and that old devil "Mr. Monopoly" (aided by President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson) is foreclosing the mortgages on hundreds of thousands of homesteads.

The reason for this grief seems to be that President Eisenhower persists in waging "cold war" against the Soviet Union.

Komsomol Pravda, the Communist youth paper, recently dealt with the US farm situation in an article headlined "Disaster of American Farmers." The English-language bimonthly News titled its article "Ruined Hopes—Position of the American Farmer."

The magazine Communist featured a review of "The Calamitous Situation of Peasantry in Capitalist Countries."

The Malenkov government has a big farm problem of its own. It is trying to raise farm production to make good its promise to give Russians more food at cheaper prices in three years.

Government directives concede that the Soviet Union now has less livestock than it had before the Communist Revolution in 1919. To bring the present livestock population through this winter strenuous efforts are being made to provide fodder and shelter.

Peasants are offered financial incentives to lift production. The United States, on the other hand, has a problem of overproduction. Its warehouses bulge with surplus grains and butter. Its farms have the huge mechanization of the remainder of the world strives for.

But the Soviet press, which long has predicted a general economic depression in the United States, now sees the decline in American farm prices as heralding a big new crash.

"Americans," says News, "remember only too well that the bitter crisis of 1929-33 was preceded by a severe aggravation of the crisis in agriculture."

News contends that the cure lies in a change of the American government's policy, abroad as well as at home. It says:

"More and more often the American farmer asks himself whether, instead of spending huge sums on the cold war, his government would not do better to reduce taxes, . . . and enable underfed people to obtain the nourishment they need, instead of piling up and then destroying the food that man's labor has produced."

Komsomol Pravda hits the line even harder. It says:

"Official figures indicate that more than two million American farm families are faced with the loss of their homes and land since their incomes are falling year in and year out . . ."

"The militarization of the country and the arms race conducted by the ruling circles of the United States lie as a heavy burden on . . . American farmers."

Harry Inch Receives Story of Big Fire That Ravaged Zion, Ill.

Harry Inch, 13th and Ohio, in a visit to The Democrat offices Tuesday, left a clipping from a Zion, Ill., newspaper giving a lurid account of a million dollar fire there Sunday night. Among seven buildings destroyed were some of the chief ones in the business district of that town of 9,000.

One of the buildings wrecked was occupied by the Sedalia Florist Shop, but an inquiring reporter calling local florists was unable to ascertain if it was conducted by a former Sedalia man as might be supposed. Otherwise it was considered likely the euphonious sounding name "Sedalia" might have just been determined upon by its operator.

During the blaze, four firemen fighting it were injured and Robert Burleigh, 61, of Fox Lake, died of a heart attack as he was returning to his home after helping battle the flames.

Red Liked Cub Pitching ST. LOUIS (U.P.)—Al (Red) Schoendienst of the Cardinals did his best hitting of the 1951 season at Chicago's Wrigley Field. In 11 games at the Cub park, Red smacked 28 hits in 51 times at bat for a .549 mark. Schoendienst made a valiant try for the National League hitting crown but lost to Brooklyn's Carl Furillo by two percentage points. Red hit .342.

In Formosa, East and West Meet In Communist Hate

By Fred Sparks
NEA Staff Correspondent

TAIPEI, Formosa — Noted in Free China, where everybody is hoping and dreaming of a war and a White Christmas ('54) in Mainland, Formosa, China:

Civic committees reading whoopee parties for the 14,000 Chinese POWs who refuse to return (from Panmunjon) to Red paradise . . .

American cigarettes from the government PX clog the black market, a shabby shame that has cheapened our prestige in every country where we've had interests.

American GIs collecting brides, an international habit. Sergeants who've been stationed around the world tell me Chinese girls are the sweetest in the Orient. German girls the sweetest in the Occident (excluding the U.S.A.)

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's picture peeps from every wall. Senator Knowland and General MacArthur lead the hit parade for Americans; former President Harry Truman and General Marshall win the local thumbs down derby.

Chinese soldiers play "table pianos" with discarded typewriter keys as "piano" keys.

Teen-age topics: High school girls volunteer four months yearly in remote army camps to build morale. I heard Miss Wong Shih-Huan wake a camp at 5:30 by cheerfully chirping into a mike:

"Soldiers — please get up. The weather is fine. Your parents, your brothers, your sisters on the (Red) Mainland are being terribly treated by Communists . . . soon you will save them."

Petty Miss Wong, with laughing eyes that close like a violinist's, is one "bugler" no one wants to murder. She has five such "radio" programs daily . . . teaches sloggers to dance, make model airplanes, sews their socks, writes letters for those who missed reading and writing. Only gal among two thousand Tommy gunners, no one's tried to kiss anything but her hand.

Overheard: Says a joking Free Chinese soldier: "Three differences between us. Eyes, nose, teeth."

Contrast: Smiling Chinese GIs like this love to joke with Yanks about facial differences.

Wheel. The radio is jammed with hours of English lessons. (Odd commentary: Red Chinese radio—90 miles away — is jammed with hours of Russian lessons.)

2. How democratic are most army officers, sharing the same rugged chow with enlistees, including rice and fish soup for breakfast.

3. How everybody talks, talks, talks and trains, trains, trains to destroy communism. U. S. characters who are bitter because they lose sensitive government jobs for sneaking behind the Fifth Amendment, would lose their heads over here.

4. How anything can be made to order in record time by shops working through the night. A handstitched suit in 24 hours; a set of living room furniture in three days.

Four things I hate about Free China:

1. How too many people blame us for their being kicked off the mainland. They say they lost only because we didn't deliver enough dollars.

2. How everyone eats out of the PIANIST: A Chinese soldier beats table piano with keys from junked U.S. typewriters.

ENGLISH LESSON: Free China is madly studying English and there are hours of English lessons on the radio each day, plus lessons in army camps, where this soldier does his homework.

We have almond eyes, yours are round. We have flat noses, yours long. We have big teeth, yours small. One thing no difference — both hate Communism."

Says American GI: "Chinese soldier with a 95-pound pack can hike twice as fast and far as we can. If the U. S. army ever runs out of gas, brother — airlift us corn plasters."

Says Free Chinese pilot: "Couple times weekly, on patrol, I can see my old home on coast (of Red China). I don't know if my parents still live there, if they're even alive . . ."

Says Chinese Colonel: "I make one-tenth of what your private makes. I work all day with your officers but never go out with them. They are so kind and I can't repay . . . my family lives in a bamboo shack . . ."

Four things I like about Free China:

1. How everybody is as pro-American as a Fourth of July pinny.

MORALE BUILDER: Wong Shih-Huan, one of the high school girls who gives four months a year to boost morale at army camps in Formosa, poses before an anti-Communist arch.

same plate, dipping chopsticks in community pots.

3. How government bigmouths expect U. S. to support them from here to eternity. Largely the fault of brittle-brained U. S. bureaucrats who strut abroad promising other people your money.

4. How Chinese get air and sea sick the moment they set foot on plane or deck; a psychological business. A rough sky voyage around here is as pleasing as an operating room.

Reporting this yesterday, the Bureau of Labor Statistics attributed the decrease in nonfarm employment in part to seasonal factors.

However, BLS said a 380,000 drop in factory payrolls was "appreciably larger than usual" and the most severe for the season since the 1949 recession year.

While noting the effect of seasonal trends on employment in the lumber, food and miscellaneous manufacturing industries, BLS also said there were reductions in primary metals, machinery, leather, transportation equipment and ordnance payrolls "not attributable to seasonal influences."

In the textile and apparel fields, where personnel reductions are customary at this time of the year, BLS said the drops recorded last month were bigger than usual.

Over-all, nonfarm employment last month was the largest of any January except last year, BLS said. It was 646,000 below a year ago because of factory layoffs. January employment in nonmanufacturing industries, on the other hand, was the highest ever.

Fresh Leads In Bodenheim Murder Case

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Detectives reported today they are working on fresh out-of-town leads in the slaying of Greenwich Village poet Maxwell Bodenheim and his third wife.

Authorities refused to supply further details, indicating they would have more to say on the investigation later in the day.

They would not say whether the new leads involved Harold Weinberg, 25-year-old "fast talker" sought since Monday for questioning in the double slaying.

Meanwhile, arrangements were being made for the funerals of the slain couple, whose bodies were found Sunday in a cheap furnished room rented by Weinberg.

Bodenheim's body was released to a son yesterday, and funeral services for him were scheduled today at Riverside Memorial Chapel here. Burial will be in Emerson, N. J.

The body of his third wife, the former Ruth Fagan, 35, also was claimed yesterday. A brother-in-law, Roy Ginger, Roxbury, Mass., came here for it. He said it would be cremated.

Bodenheim's first wife, the former Minna Schein, arranged for his funeral and burial. Their son Solbert, 30, identified the body yesterday, his first view of his father in eight years.

Author Ben Hecht, a friend of the 58-year-old Bodenheim in pre-depression Chicago, had offered to pay the funeral expenses.

Captain Carlsen again—Kurt Carlsen, the heroic sea captain who refused to desert his sinking ship, the Flying Enterprise, during an Atlantic gale, sailed into Jeddah, Saudi Arabia, with his new ship, Flying Enterprise II, where he heard an American engineer had been seriously injured and needed blood transfusions. Carlsen called his crew together, announced he was offering his blood, and the entire crew followed suit. Only three of the crew had the right type of blood, but they took turns supplying the injured man transfusions for several days.

The Pentagon brass had a discussion the other day on whether or not to release to the press some new pictures of the WAC Corporal guided missile. Secretary of Defense C. E. Wilson was in on the conference. His comment was:

"Now you realize, don't you that the WAC Corporal is not a pin-up girl."

In Italy, unlike the United States, the Air Force, is in complete command of all military aircraft. The U.S. Air Force on the other hand controls only its own planes and has no control over the aircraft of the Navy or the Army. For years the situation has caused bitter clashes between the three services. Now, this same inter-service battle is having its repercussions in Italy. The U.S. Army and Navy are refusing to deliver their surplus planes to Italian commanders because the planes would all come under the control of Italy's air force. Believe it or not, U.S. Admirals and Army Generals maintain that unless their surplus planes are placed under the control of Italy's navy and army, they will refuse to make plane deliveries to Italy. Apparently the brass hats are not content to wage their battles in the Pentagon—now they are trying to get our Allies into the bickering.

Hal Boyle's Column—

End of Bodenheim Expresses Futility of Atmosphere Living

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The slaying of Maxwell Bodenheim, a futile poet and novelist, is a flamboyant epitaph to a Greenwich Village that is gone.

It is a kind of mortal farewell to a Bohemianism that died long ago, and for almost 25 years has become to the outsider a Manhattan tourist attraction. The tourists still feel they have to see Greenwich Village just as they used to visit Grant's Tomb.

They go to Radio City now or visit the top of the Empire State instead of calling on Gen. Grant. But time doesn't dim the magic of some names. And so they still like to beam at the bums on the Bowery, gawk at the law-abiding chop suey den of Chinatown that the late O. O. McIntyre pictured full of slant-eyed opium addicts—and they like to go to Greenwich Village, hoping to see the mad, bad, Bohemian artists at play.

The passing of poor Max Bodenheim is only the irony of the death of a symbol. He came here out of the Chicago literary school, as did his arch rival, Ben Hecht, who co-authored "The Front Page," with Charles MacArthur, another Chicago newspaperman.

At one time they all were regarded as midwestern Bohemians. Then the roads went different ways. MacArthur married Helen Hayes after, so the legend goes, winning her heart by holding out some peanuts and saying, "I wish they were emeralds."

But both MacArthur and Hecht went on to hit the literary jackpot. Bodenheim never became popular. His life revolved itself, according to many critics, into a victory of alcoholism over a fine talent.

He settled in Greenwich Village and became a character in an out-of-date Bohemianism. He died of a .22 caliber bullet through the chest, and the saddest and perhaps the truest thing you can say of Maxwell Bodenheim is that the guy who pulled the trigger picked the right size gun to measure his final stature as a writer. Max pulled the trigger on his own life long ago, or at least on the promise that his life held. And why he did it is his own secret, and our mystery.

John Masefield mopped a bar-room floor in Greenwich Village, and later became famous. Eugene O'Neill dreamed and loved and probably drank there. So did Edna Millay, Alexander Hamilton, Edgar Allan Poe, and a very eloquent living friend of mine named John Lardner, and a hundred talented others.

My wife and I, when young, lived for seven happy years next door to the home where once had dwelt Richard Harding Davis, the Ernie Pyle of his day, and three doors from the apartment house where Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt lived for a time, too. As a matter of fact, Ernie Pyle lived in Greenwich Village briefly, and was unhappy there.

Greenwich Village today is one of the nicest residential communities for some of the most solidly respectable people in America. It has a few of the finest restaurants in the land. It also has a few cheap tawdry night clubs that are a disgrace to it and the people who come there looking for "atmosphere."

They are tearing down Mark Twain's old home to put up a big apartment house, New York University, where Thomas Wolfe

WARBLE TREATMENTS
For Destruction of Cattle Grubs (OX WARBLER)
It is estimated by the U. S. Department of Agriculture that the total loss from reduced beef and milk production, due to cattle grubs, is from fifty to one hundred million dollars per year, which added to the estimated loss in damaged hides of fifteen to twenty million dollars, presents a staggering figure. This loss can be prevented by treatment of animals when the grubs reach the back, boring a hole through the hide. The grub can be killed at this stage of its life cycle by application of Rotenone-bearing powders in dry form or prepared wash form, or in spray form at about 250 to 400 pounds nozzle pressure. The treatment should be repeated at about thirty-day intervals, as all grubs do not reach the back at the same time. By killing the grub while in the back, heel fly attacks can be eliminated in the spring with subsequent reduction in grub infestation the following year. It has been demonstrated that grub infestation can be largely eliminated through the area-wide treatment of cattle in a given area.

S-C Over Kewpies 46-44 In Overtime Periods

Team Moves Up To a Third-place Tie With Kewpies; Plays MMA Friday

The Smith-Cotton High School Tigers ran the Hickman Kewpies of Columbia down to the last seconds of two overtime periods here Tuesday night to win 46-44, averaging a defeat suffered at Columbia several weeks ago. It was a battle of the conference to date in which teams had to fight it out in two extra periods.

It was a scrap from the first tip-off of the ball. Hickman took a one-point first quarter only to be tied up at the intermission time when the Tigers scored 14 to 13 to make the score 22-22. Working their way around the court, the fleet-footed Kewpies found the Tigers everywhere, but they succeeded in out scoring the locals 12-10 to take back the lead.

The fourth quarter was anything but a scoring session when the Tigers held the Kewpies to eight points during which time they collected 10 to knot the game 42-42.

In the first overtime period both teams were only successful in getting but one basket. In the second overtime period the Tigers took the game on a basket by Ray Homan. It was Homan who made the only first overtime basket to keep things knotted for the Sedalias.

Homan one of the top scorers in the Central Missouri Conference was held to 15 points and seven of those were made on free throws, he being held down to four goals, one in the first, another in the fourth and the two in the overtime periods. He led the Tiger scoring against Columbia however, Buhlig was next with 4-5 for 13 points.

Coe was high point man for the Kewpies getting 5-2 for 12 points, and Martin second with 2-6 for 10. The defeat of Hickman raised the Smith-Cotton standing in the CMO conference with three wins and four losses to go into a third place tie with Columbia.

Jefferson City walked on Kemper M. A. 77-36 to cling to the lead in the conference closely trailed by Hannibal. The Tigers now have a 6-0, while Hannibal has a 6-1 for second position. Missouri Military Academy has a 3-5 record for fourth place and Kemper is still fighting to win a game having a 0-7 record for the conference season.

Three conference games are to be played this week with the big game coming at Jefferson City when they meet the Hannibal Pirates. Hannibal has an overall season record of 17-4 while the Jays have a 13-5 record. Kemper is to travel to Columbia while Missouri Military Academy comes to Sedalia. All three games are scheduled for Friday night.

Ashenfelter Topped NYAC NEW YORK (AP)—Olympic steeplechase champion Horace Ashenfelter was the top scorer in track and field for the New York Athletic Club in 1953. Ashenfelter succeeded Jim Fuchs, who was top man for three years. Trapshooters Nicholas Egan and Roger Fawcett were next in total points scored for the N. Y. A. C.

Sooners' Take Last Minute Win from MU

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A field goal by guard Lester Lane in the final two seconds of the game did three things for the Oklahoma Sooners last night:

1. Gave them an 80-78 decision over Missouri.
2. Broke a 3-game losing streak.
3. Jumped them into a fifth place Big Seven Conference tie with Missouri.

The Sooners had worked to a fairly comfortable 76-71 lead in the final quarter when Missouri center Bob Reiter put on a one-man show to even things up.

He scored a field goal, followed with a free throw, then stole the ball and scored again to make it 78-76. Bob Schoonmaker was fouled by Oklahoma center Bob Walle and sank both charity tosses for the 78-81 tie.

The game was close all the way with nine deadlocks throughout. The lead changed a total of 13 times.

Lane and Reiter led the scoring with 30 points each.

Big Seven teams are idle now until Saturday when Nebraska plays at Kansas and Iowa State at Kansas State. Oklahoma has a non-conference engagement at Oklahoma A&M and Houston meets Missouri at Columbia.

Houstonia, La Monte Win In Tourney

The Pettis-Benton County Athletic Association basketball tournament resumed in the second round Tuesday night as both Houstonia teams, the Warsaw volleyball team, and the LaMonte basketball team won their games.

Houstonia's games saw the Shamrocks roll to an easy basketball victory over the Cole Camp crew as two Houstonians, Lloyd Shireman and Willis Charles, went on a scoring spree and tallied 30 and 29 points respectively.

The Shamrocks outscored their opponents in all quarters as the first saw the scoreboard at 17-14, and a half time of 39-26. In the third, Houstonia tallied 21 to 12 for Cole Camp and 17-9 in the final period and the game ended 77 to 47.

Lloyd Shireman took scoring honors for Houstonia with 30 followed by Willis Charles and Ray Shireman with 29 and 15 respectively. Freuma led Cole Camp with 13, followed by Hessefort with 11. In the volleyball game, Blackburn led the Shamrocks to victory over LaMonte with 8 and Lindman scored 6 for the losers. The final score was 32 to 20.

The other big game of the evening saw the LaMonte five defeat the tournament hosts, Green Ridge by the score of 49 to 38 in a basketball battle.

LaMonte took an early lead and the first quarter ended 11-5. The Green Ridge boys fought hard in the second period and outscored their rivals 13-10 to bring on an intermission with the score at 21 to 18, LaMonte holding the lead.

The visitors then took over the entire ball game and outscored their hosts in both of the final quarters, 12-18 and 16-12, to end the game 49 to 38.

Trelow took scoring honors for the winners with 14 and Embree tallied 10 to lead Green Ridge. In the final game of the evening, the Cole Camp girls rolled to an easy 40-16 volleyball victory over the Warsaw crew.

Freund paced the winners with 16 and Massey tallied 4 for Warsaw.

Another Team Quits Over Negro Teams

MOBERLY, Mo. (AP)—Glasgow today joined two other high schools in withdrawing from a Class B sub-regional high school basketball tournament because they would be competing with Negro teams. First to withdraw from the meet at Salisbury were Keyesville and Hunsville. The boards of those schools acted after polling the parents of the players. The Glasgow board, however, took the action without polling the parents.

Sports Roundup--

Crowd at Dog Show Is More Tense Than at Horse Show

NEW YORK (AP)—A maiden visit to a first-class dog show such as that of the Westminster Kennel Club, which annually takes over Madison Square Garden for two days of blue-blooded yapping, can dogs be both interesting and rewarding if one keeps his ears and eyes open and doesn't get into any arguments about dogs.

In the first place, it is quite a sight just to see the floor of the Garden around the judging rings packed with persons from many states, with the overflow extending high into the balconies, and to realize that every last one of them is there because he thinks that dog is man's best friend. It is a more sober, tense gathering than one sees at the horse show.

Tightly clutched in most fists is a copy of the official program, which retails at $1.50, without pictures. Most of those sitting or standing six deep around the rings have their copies opened at the right page and spend their time studying the small type with the same, rapt absorption seen on a race track special out of Penn Station.

Except for the murmur of voices, it is a quiet gathering. The dogs, one assumes, have been taught to keep their yaps shut while they are being picked over by the judges. Now and then a brief splatter of applause is heard when a blue ribbon is awarded. This comes on the heels of a dog's defeat. Defeated dogs and their handlers only stare straight ahead, coldly. If you've ever wondered, as we had, how they ever teach show dogs to stand with their hind legs stretched out behind them like they were looking for a fight, the answer is that they don't. At least, not the ones we saw. What happens is that the handler squats beside his animal and keeps yanking his legs back every few moments as he sees the judge coming. Most of the high-toned dogs do not appear to like this any better than the one in our house does.

If it is possible after only one session to generalize about handlers, we would suggest that anyone thinking of entering his pet in a company should get himself in fairly good shape too. At a certain point the judge is going to ask each pair—dog and master—to take a couple of fast turns around the ring, and 20 or 30 pounds of extra suet on the latter can be a handicap.

We saw two lady handlers finish this ordeal in bad shape, their breath coming in gasps that could be heard. While the judge almost certainly is not supposed to take this into account, we could not help noticing that in each case first prize went to a dog whose handler looked like he could run all day. In between studying the finer points of judging and handling, we managed to learn a thing or two about dogs in general that might be news to some. Probably the biggest piece of dog news is that the beagle now is the most popular dog in this country, having passed the cocker spaniel, the previous titleholder, during the past year.

Dodgers Beat Yanks at Pen And Ink Work

NEW YORK (AP)—If the Brooklyn Dodgers could beat the New York Yankees in October the way they do in February, they could fly a world champions' flag over Ebbets Field.

The Dodgers, as you may remember, have lost to the Yankees five times in five tries in the World Series, but they're running way ahead of the Yanks in the pen-and-ink department. With the signing of pitcher Carl Erskine yesterday, the Brooks completed contract negotiations with the top five pitchers within 12 days.

They now have 29 presumably contented players and first baseman Gil Hodges is the only unsigned regular.

The Yankees? Well, catcher Yogi Berra's signed document is in the Stadium safe, but the world champions have signed only 19 players in all. And most of the regulars have yet to come to terms.

Erskine, who set a World Series record when he struck out 14 Yankees in the third game of the '53 classic, reportedly received a substantial boost over his supposed pay last year of $18,000. The Indiana right-hander probably got around $25,000 for winning 20 and losing six last year.

The Dodger pitchers began falling in line Jan. 29 when Russ Meyer (15-5) agreed to terms. He was quickly followed by Billy Loes (14-8), Preacher Roe (11-3) and Don Newcombe, a 20-game winner for the Brooks in 1951 before entering the Army.

The Milwaukee Braves, winter book favorites as the strongest challengers to the Dodgers in '54, also took a long step toward solving their battery problems as right-hander Bob Buhl and Del Crandall, their No. 4 catcher signed contracts.

It was a remunerative day for the batters' men all around both leagues yesterday. Other pitchers who signed up were Bob Turley, the Baltimore Orioles' promising young right-hander; Hector (Skinny) Brown, who had an 11-6 mark for the Boston Red Sox; Dave Koslo and Al Corwin of the New York Giants; rookie right-hander Tom Hurd of the Chicago White Sox, up with a 17-11 record from Minneapolis; and Al Aber and Bob Cruse of the Detroit Tigers.

Catchers signed in addition to Crandall were the veteran Walker Cooper, who caught on with the Pittsburgh Pirates after his release from Milwaukee, and Forrest (Smoky) Burgess of the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Tigers also signed infielder Jim Basinger. The Braves released pitcher Jim Waugh to New Orleans to make room for Cooper, and the Red Sox optioned outfielder Gene Stephens to Louisville.

One of Series by Baseball Managers-- Milwaukee, After Big Year, Is Going After the Pennant

By CHARLIE GRIMM

Milwaukee Braves Manager

ROBERTSVILLE, Mo. (AP)—The season of 1953 is one I'll never forget. It was a wonderful year for the city of Milwaukee, the loyal fans of Milwaukee, the Braves of Milwaukee and the manager of the Uncle Charlie.

But that was last year. This is another year. We jumped from seventh to second in one season. Now we're going to try to complete the jump. I'm not predicting a thing but this club of mine has only one objective. We're going to do our best to bring a pennant to the most deserving fans in the world—the Milwaukee fans.

I think we're going to have a better team than last year. The addition of Bobby Thomson from the New York Giants and of Danny O'Connell from Pittsburgh will help us a great deal. They will give us added batting power and also speed.

We were short of infield reserves last season. Now with O'Connell and Jack Dittmer available for second base, we will have no worries.

Pitching is our strongest point and we don't want to spoil it trading off one of our starters. I'm not boasting that we have the best pitching in the league but you can judge for yourself. Men like Warren Spahn, Bob Buhl and Lew Burdette were among the top seven National League hurlers in the earned run average department. Spahn was the best pitcher in the league last season.

We're going to have Chet Nichols back from service. Nichols was the National League's earned run champion prior to going into the service in 1951. Phil Paine, who looked good in the short time he was with the Braves before joining the army, also will be back. Then there is Gene Conley, the tall young right-hander who burned up the American Association with Toledo last year. He should be ready for the big show next season.

Del Crandall again will be the first string catcher. We have a kid called Henry Aaron coming up from Jacksonville who everybody thinks will be a Big League star in another year or two. He is a second baseman but I've been told he can play in the outfield, too.

I think the league will be stronger with Brooklyn again the team to beat. And they'll take a lot of beating, too. But it can be done. Whether we can do it or not I don't know but we'll be in there trying.

Two Players Vie for High In Mo. Valley

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Either center Bob Mattick of Oklahoma A&M or forward Dick Boushka of St. Louis University could gain control of the individual scoring lead in Missouri Valley Conference basketball when the Aggies and Billikens meet here tonight.

Classy Cleo Littleton, Wichita forward, still holds the lead in games through Monday, but his seven-game average of 20.3 has been losing ground to 6-foot-10 1/2 Mattick and Deadeve Dick, the defending scoring champ.

Mattick packed away 25 points Monday as the Aggies retained their unbeaten lead in the Valley against Detroit. That gave him a 19.8-point average in five games and pushed him into the No. 2 spot as Detroit forward Guy Sparrow scored only 15 points and dropped to fourth place with a 19.3 average in seven games.

Boushka, idle since Saturday, slipped into third place with his 19.5 average in four games. The Billikens are missing two Valley games because of illness, set a 10-game record in the league last season as a sophomore with a 20.5 average.

Mattick needs 24 points to replace Littleton, idle in conference play until next week, as the scoring leader. Boushka needs at least the same number of points to take the lead.

Tonight's game also matches the No. 1 defensive unit in the Valley, the Aggies, against St. Louis' top-ranked Valley offense, Oklahoma A&M which held opponents to a 33.0-point average. St. Louis this week replaces Wichita—held to 51 points by the Aggies last week—as the team offensive leader with a 71.3 average in six games. Wichita has averaged 70.7 points in 7 games.

Cheers! It's Just Those American Teens in England — Not Comanches

By TOM A. CULLEN
NEA Special Correspondent

LONDON — (NEA) — "Strawberry shortcake, huckleberry pie, V-I-C-T-O-R-Y!"

Comanches on the warpath? The British school children weren't sure. They watched fascinated as the American cheerleaders went through their paces.

Occasion: an "Anglo-American teen-ager" conference, sponsored by the Council for Education in World Citizenship.

It wasn't just the ritual of the high school cheer, nor the way the British children sat primly in their seats, while the Americans lolled, cheerfully at home in the strange surroundings of St. Pancras Town Hall.

There was the dress. The British teen-agers wore drab school uniforms, while the Americans wore as brilliant as macaws, that might have been cut from Navajo rugs, the girls with sophisticated hair styles.

"Do you still have sheriffs in the Wild West?" a 14-year-old English girl asked.

"Well," said Freddie Buhler, 13, of Los Angeles, "that's a good question. We do have sheriffs, but not like they were in the old days."

The British contingent seemed surprised that American high school students take an oath of allegiance to their country each day. So the Americans, who are students of school at Bushy Park and Grosvenor Square, stood up in a block and gave them a demonstration.

Then there was lunch, and afterwards a certain amount of gum-chewing could be observed in the English section, too.

Questions asked the American "brains trust" in the afternoon session were: Is there religious instruction in American schools; how much pocket money do American students get; were they liable for military service; what about the color bar in the U.S.?

what do Americans like most to eat.

All these questions were dealt with satisfactorily; then came the $64 question.

What advantages, the audience wanted to know, have British schools over American?

The experts said they didn't want to appear unfriendly, but they couldn't think of any.

Tax Writers To Reject One Major Point

WASHINGTON (AP)—House tax writers said today they will reject only one major point in President Eisenhower's 25-point program for streamlining tax laws and giving individuals and business more than two billion dollars in annual reductions.

Action by the House Ways and Means Committee yesterday, approving a new tax cut for farmers, brought to 19 the number of White House proposals already approved in less than a month's work on the big overhaul job.

But both Republicans and Democrats on the committee agreed there isn't a chance that the committee will accept one remaining point.

This request—complex but significant—called for shifting corporation income taxes so that corporations would make four equal quarterly payments. The effect would be an advance on the next year's bills.

Under present law, most corporations will pay all of their 1953 tax bill in two equal payments this year, due on March 15 and June 15.

The result is that funds pour into the Treasury the first half of the calendar year, but returns are skimpy the last half. This is one of the big factors that led the administration to seek an increase in the national debt limit.

Eisenhower, outlining this point in his budget message, said, "The irregularity of tax receipts increases the problems in managing the public debt and is an unsettling influence in the money markets. (It) also may make it harder for corporations to manage their own financing."

But committee members who

Dickie Shoemaker Places 2nd In Legion Speech Meet

By Norman L. Griswold

Sunday, Feb. 7, the District 7 American Legion held the second round of the high school public speaking contest at Glasgow. The contestants who appeared in the event were one senior, two juniors, and one sophomore. The senior from St. Paul's College High at Concordia won first place and Sedalia's entry, Dick Shoemaker, was awarded second place.

Four counties, Johnson, Saline, Boone, and Pettis were represented at the contest. Miss Anna L. Sawford accompanied Shoemaker to Glasgow.

Attend Speech Tournament

Larry Lingle and Jack Isgur, members of Smith-Cotton High School's speech department, journeyed to Omaha, Neb., Thursday, Feb. 4, where they participated in an eight state debate tournament. At the tournament, Lingle entered the extemporaneous speaking division, and Isgur took part in the panel discussion.

The two students were accompanied to Nebraska by Ralph Van Der Kamp, a member of Smith-Cotton faculty.

While in Omaha, the Sedalians attended a banquet in honor of guest speech students and stayed at the Fontinelle Hotel. The trio of Sedalians returned to Sedalia late Saturday evening.

Spiz To Take Trip

The Spiz Club held its bi-weekly meeting at 3:20 p. m. Monday with Joy Cunningham, Spiz president, presiding.

At the meeting, it was decided by the membership to attend the Jefferson City Jays-Smith-Cotton game which is to be held in Jefferson City Tuesday, Feb. 16.

Senior Council Meets

The Senior Student Council met at 2:20 p. m. Monday. Carl Mathews presided over the meeting which was spent in open discussion and the presentation of committee reports.

In the open discussion period, the members discussed the semi-formal Valentine Day dance which is to be held after the Smith-Cotton - MMA basketball game Friday night. It was announced at the meeting that Gene Watts and Don Hofheins' combined orchestra will play for the event. Also discussed at the meeting was the purchase of soap dispensers and their placement in the rest rooms of the school.

Junior Council Meets

The Junior Student Council met in Room 6 at 3:20 p. m. Tuesday with Don Land presiding. The meeting was opened with the student's prayer. At the meeting, traffic officers were appointed and the various committee reports were given.

Play Cast Chosen

Members of the Sophomore Intra-Mural play cast were chosen Tuesday by the Sophomore play director and stage manager. Those selected were: Don Barbour, Karen Crosslin, Nancy Oswald, Nancy Pace and Ted Rasa.

Shirley Kirkpatrick is the Sophomore director and Larry Lingle is stage manager.

Atomic Engine On Locomotive Is Described

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—An atomic locomotive that would run for a year on only 13 pounds of uranium will be described today to railroad and manufacturing representatives by a University of Utah nuclear scientist.

The scientist, Dr. Lyle B. Borst, yesterday made public plans for what could be the world's first atomic-driven locomotive. He said the plans were developed during his advance physics course at the university.

Today he will outline the plans to representatives of the five railroad and nine industrial groups which cooperated with the project.

At a press conference yesterday, he said the locomotive would be driven with steam-produced electricity and would cost an estimated $1,200,000. It would look much the same as the diesel locomotives now in use and would develop 7,000 horsepower.

The scientist said the engine could run for a year on approximately 13 pounds of uranium. He said that even if the uranium cost $11,000 a pound the fuel expenditure would be about $150,000, compared with the present $240,000 that is spent annually on a diesel developing the same horsepower.

He said he did not know the cost of uranium but said a recent published report estimated it at around $9,000 a pound.

He emphasized that the project was still in the classroom stage but predicted that "we will have atomic locomotives before we have atomically produced electric energy on an industrial scale."

Horace H. Hayden of Windsor, Conn., is credited with establishing the world's first dental college there.

same as the diesel locomotives now in use and would develop 7,000 horsepower.

The scientist said the engine could run for a year on approximately 13 pounds of uranium. He said that even if the uranium cost $11,000 a pound the fuel expenditure would be about $150,000, compared with the present $240,000 that is spent annually on a diesel developing the same horsepower.

He said he did not know the cost of uranium but said a recent published report estimated it at around $9,000 a pound.

He emphasized that the project was still in the classroom stage but predicted that "we will have atomic locomotives before we have atomically produced electric energy on an industrial scale."
